UPON YOUR ARRIVAL

Your Rights as a Patient

At Stony Brook Medicine, we respect your rights as a patient and strive to provide considerate, respectful healthcare based on your individual needs. When you are admitted to the hospital, you will receive information that outlines your rights under New York State law. If you have a question about your rights or need more information, please speak to your nurse, doctor or social worker. You can also call the Department of Patient Advocacy at 4-2880. Please see pages 24 and 25 for more information.

Positive Identification

To ensure patient safety and security while meeting standards of compliance, when you are being admitted to Stony Brook University Hospital, you will be asked to provide positive identification. In general, a government picture ID, such as a driver's license, state ID or passport serves to meet this standard. If you have not already documented positive patient identification at the hospital, please contact a Patient Access Services representative at 4-1870.

Selecting a Caregiver: The New York State CARE Act

During admission to the hospital, you will be asked if you would like to name a "caregiver" who can help you with tasks at home should you need assistance. This could be a family member, friend, neighbor or anyone else who is significant in your life. This is not necessarily the family or friends who are helping you with your medical decisions and does not have to be your healthcare proxy or next of kin. Your caregiver will be included with you in any necessary teaching regarding your discharge plan, and any other instructions and demonstrations by hospital staff related to things that may need to be provided for you after discharge. This could include medication, dressing changes and physician follow-up appointments. As your caregiver, your medical information may be shared with them, as necessary.

NY Care Information Gateway

If your doctors are not affiliated with Stony Brook University Hospital, you can share your medical information with them if you participate in the NY Care Information Gateway. The NY Care Information Gateway is a regional health information organization (RHIO) that uses a secure computer network to store, protect and share patient health information electronically. You have the right to decide who can access your health information — doctors, nurses and other healthcare providers — which will help them make more informed decisions regarding your care. We will need your consent allowing us to access your health information, as well as to share your medical records while you are being cared for at Stony Brook University Hospital. One of our Patient Access Services representatives will ask you for your electronic signature.

Identification Bands

After being admitted to the hospital, you will be given a patient identification band, which will be placed around your wrist. The band contains important information about you to help us meet your individual needs. Please wear it throughout your stay. If your band is uncomfortable, is removed or falls off, let your nurse know immediately.

Personal Items and Valuables

We will supply hospital gowns, slippers and personal toiletries, although you may be more comfortable having your own nightclothes. Please do not keep personal items and valuables in your room since the hospital cannot be responsible for their safekeeping. Ask a relative or friend to keep these items and any cash over $25 for you. If you are unable to have someone take your items, we can have them placed in the Cashier's Office safe (Level 5 of the main hospital) until you leave. To retrieve your personal items and valuables, the Cashier's Office hours are:

- Monday - Wednesday, 8 am to 6 pm
- Thursday - Sunday, 8:30 am to 4:30 pm
- Emergency Department Cashier - 24 hours a day/ seven days a week

Personal medications and medical devices are permitted only with authorization of your attending physician. Weapons are not permitted on hospital premises.

Dentures, Eyeglasses and Hearing Aids

We will provide denture cups and patient belonging bags for your dentures, eyeglasses and/or hearing aids during your stay. Be careful not to wrap them in tissue, store them in a glass, or leave them on a food tray, your bed or on tabletops. Please keep these items in the drawer in your bedside table when you are not wearing them. If you wish to store them, please call Transport Services at 4-2980.

Cell Phones

To help promote a healing environment, please be courteous when using your cell phone. To protect patient confidentiality, the use of camera phones and/or visual/audio recording is strictly prohibited.

Hospital Directory Opt Out

As a patient, you have the right to opt out and not be listed in any Hospital Directory of patients. That means when someone asks for you by name, even family and close friends, no information will be provided, including your presence here.

Patients who do not opt out of the Hospital Directory may either limit the individuals who may visit, or indicate individuals who are not permitted to visit (whichever is fewer). For example, you can request that (name of person) may not visit.

A Tobacco-Free Environment

Because your health and the health of others is our concern and responsibility, the use of tobacco is not allowed anywhere on the Stony Brook Medicine campus — inside or out — including Stony Brook University Hospital, Stony Brook Children's Hospital, the Health Sciences and Basic Sciences Towers, Medical and Research Translation (MART) building, Hospital Pavilion, Ambulatory Surgery Center, Cancer Center, Imaging Center, the Long Island State Veterans Home, as well as all parking garages. Please note that this includes cigarettes, cigars, pipes, or the inhaling or exhaling of smoke or vapor from an electronic smoking device or any other matter or substance that contains tobacco or any other matter that can be smoked.

Smoking Cessation

It is in the best interest of your health and the health of your family to stop smoking. We can help. If you are a smoker, ask your doctor or nurse about nicotine replacement. The New York State Smokers' Quitline offers free counseling and nicotine replacement. Call (866) 697-8487 (866-NY-QUITS) or visit nysmokefree.com online. The Suffolk County Department of Health offers a six-week program to assist you with quitting. To find a class near you, call (631) 853-4017.

Cultural Sensitivity and Awareness

We understand that your beliefs and values can play a big role in your recovery, and we're sensitive to the ways in which your perceptions about healthcare may differ from another patient's or from the staff members who are here to help you. During your stay, please let us know what we can do to help respect and meet your needs and those of your family. This may include dietary considerations, language interpretation, and religious or other spiritual practices. We want to ensure the best care possible for you.

For current fees, call 4-9568. Valet parking at the Emergency Department (ED) valet location is free for patients only in the ED, Comprehensive Psychiatric Emergency Program (CPEP) and Maternity Urgent Care with validation from one of those three locations. Shuttle Service

The hospital offers a free shuttle service to transport patients, employees, students and volunteers to and from the hospital and its affiliated off-site locations, which include the Ambulatory Surgery Center, Ambulatory Care Pavilion and Stony Brook Technology Center (known as Tech Park). Call Button/Pillow Speaker

A remote control is available for you to call your nurse (known as a call button in the main hospital and pillow speaker in the Hospital Pavilion). When you press the button, the nursing staff is alerted, and a staff member will respond as soon as possible.

During the Night

For your safety, we ask that you stay in bed after you have been made comfortable for the night. Unfamiliar surroundings and medications may create a hazard if you get out of bed. For assistance during the night, use your call button/pillow speaker, and your nurse will help you.

myStation

Patients in the Hospital Pavilion have access to myStation, a personal library of information, entertainment and education. This TV system allows you to review your information, your room's services and take part in a satisfaction survey. By using the keyboard in your room, you can scroll through the system to explore available features. A how-to video is available to guide you through the process. For more information about myStation, ask your nurse. Plans are underway to install myStation in all of the patient rooms within the main hospital.

Concierge Services/Information Desk

The Concierge Services staff is available from 7 am to 8:30 pm to help you should you have any questions, need directions or need any help beyond the routine of your medical care. To reach the Concierge Desk, call 4-7686.

Please call Patient Advocacy at 4-2880 to make arrangements or speak with your nurse. See pages 24 and 25 for more information.

Additional Services for Patients with Hearing Impairments

Stony Brook University Hospital provides many resources for our patients with hearing impairments. Please contact Patient Advocacy at 4-2880 for assistance or ask your nurse.

Quiet Hours

To provide our patients and visitors with a quieter environment, we are actively working to reduce noise levels throughout the hospital. Studies show that noise levels directly affect physical and mental healing. So that our patients receive needed rest, Quiet Hours on the inpatient units begin at 2 pm for one hour and then again overnight from 9 pm to 6 am. As our staff makes every effort to keep noise levels to a minimum, we ask that you contribute by keeping conversations low, lowering TV and radio volumes, putting phones on silent or vibrate, and avoid congregating in hallways outside of patient rooms. Thank you for helping to make our hospital a better place for all.

Dining

Wholesome, nourishing and well-balanced meals are important to your treatment and recovery. Your doctor has prescribed a diet suitable for your medical needs, and the hospital offers a variety of food choices within that framework. If you practice dietary restrictions for religious or personal reasons, be sure to tell your nurse. If at any time you have questions about your diet, meals or nutrition, your nurse will arrange for you to meet with one of our registered dietitians.

Food for Patients from External Sources

Stony Brook discourages visitors from bringing in food from any external source. The hospital is responsible for providing our patients with food that is safe, sanitary and clinically appropriate. If you feel it necessary to bring in food, please discuss it with the patient's nurse or doctor to make sure it conforms to the patient's diet. The hospital does not take responsibility for the wholesomeness, safety or nutritional content of foods supplied by visitors. The hospital will not accept foods to store or reheat. Food items may not be left in the patient's room.

Telephone Service

All rooms, except those in the intensive care and psychiatric units, have bedside telephones that provide complimentary telephone service. If there is an issue with your telephone equipment or the service, please notify your nurse, nursing assistant or another staff member.

Stony Brook University has four major exchanges: 444, 632, 638 and 216. You may see abbreviated telephone numbers such as 4-1234 (444-1234), 2-1234 (632-1234), 8-1234 (638-1234) or 6-1234 (216-1234). Television Service

Each room is equipped with a television. The hospital's Patient Education channels provide health-related programming. Please talk to your healthcare provider to learn about the specific education that is right for you. Videos are available in English and Spanish.

Additional complimentary television services include regularly scheduled programs in Cablevision's Family Cable package. If there is an issue with your television or the service, please notify your nurse, nursing assistant or another staff member. See page 21 for a listing of television channels.

Wireless Internet Access for Patients and Guests

Stony Brook operates a wireless (Wi-Fi) network for patients and guests, free of charge. Using your Wi-Fi-enabled device, you can access the internet throughout our medical campus.

To Set Up Your Connection

1. On your device, access the Wi-Fi connection, which is usually found within the device's settings.
2. Select our Patient/Guest Wi-Fi network. Name: SBMED-Guest.
3. Once connected, open a web browser on your device. The browser should automatically open a web page that will give you details on how to register and connect to Wi-Fi.

4. If the web page does not open, try opening a non-secure web page like neverssl.com to force the browser to open the registration portal.
5. On the registration portal, select one of two options: One for those who have already registered and the other for those who need an account. If you have not registered, select the option under "Need an account."
6. Provide your name, cell phone number and mobile carrier information. Once submitted, the password information is sent via text message to the provided number.
7. When you have registered and received the Wi-Fi username/password via text message, select "Patient and Guest Login."
8. You can now log in using the telephone number you provided and the password you received via text message.

If you registered and did not receive the text message, do not have text messaging or need additional assistance, please call the Stony Brook Medicine Help Desk at (631) 444-4357 (4-HELP).

Be sure to secure all valuables, including laptops and smartphones at all times. The hospital cannot be responsible for loss or damage to such items.

Please Note: The hospital reserves the right to monitor Wi-Fi activity, filter content and otherwise control or prohibit usage.

Mail and Flowers

Concierge Services delivers flowers and mail sent to you while you are a patient. Latex balloons are not permitted in hospital rooms. Mail is delivered on weekdays only.

Lost and Found

If you misplace a personal item, please tell the nurse right away, and every effort will be made to locate it. The hospital's Public Safety Office has a Lost and Found located in the Health Sciences Tower, Level 3, Room 166. Call (631) 444-2825 to inquire about lost items.

YOUR HEALTHCARE TEAM

Medical Staff

Your doctor, who is on the faculty of the Renaissance School of Medicine at Stony Brook University, manages your patient care team. Several doctors may be involved in your care, as well as other staff members:

- Attending physicians or hospitalists are responsible for patient care and oversee residents.
 - House physicians are fellows, residents and interns, who have finished medical school and are in training. They are directly involved in patient care.
 - Fellows are fully credentialed physicians who have completed their residency and elect to complete further training in a subspecialty.
 - Residents are physicians undergoing three to seven years training to become board certified in a specialty, such as pediatrics or oncology.
 - Interns are new physicians in the first year of residency.
- Nurse practitioners, licensed practical nurses, physician assistants, nurse midwives, other allied health practitioners and hospital clinical assistants also provide care.

Nursing Staff

There may be many nurses and nursing staff members involved in your care. The nursing staff works closely with the medical staff and other members of the healthcare team. The nursing team includes the nurse manager, clinicians, nurse specialists, nurse educators, registered nurses, nursing assistants, technicians and nursing station clerks.

- Nurse managers are responsible for the supervision of the nursing staff.
- Nurse specialists have advanced training in a specific nursing specialty and are responsible for assuring that quality care is received by patients.
- Nurse educators provide education and training to nursing staff.
- Clinicians are the nurses who are responsible for operational management of a unit during a particular shift.

- A registered nurse plans and coordinates your overall nursing care each shift and assigns tasks to other members of the nursing team such as clinical assistants, licensed practical nurses and technicians.

Care Management Staff

- Case managers work with your team to coordinate your care while you are in the hospital and assist with discharge planning for those patients who need care after their hospitalization.
- Social workers help you and your family to manage the stress of illness, hospitalization and treatment, and help plan for your care after you leave the hospital.

Your team strives to provide comprehensive and coordinated care throughout your stay. As a major teaching resource, Stony Brook trains health professionals, including doctors, nurses, medical students, physical therapists and social workers. Should you wish to hire a private duty nurse, speak with your nurse or contact the Nursing Office for a list of approved agencies.

Please note that private duty nurses are not members of the hospital staff. You will be responsible for forwarding payment directly to the agency you select.

Volunteers

Volunteers assist with a variety of services throughout the hospital. You will be able to identify volunteers by their identification badges and their royal blue-colored jackets.

Staff Identification

Each staff member, student-in-training and volunteer is required to wear a clearly visible identification badge bearing a photograph, name and job title. The ID badge confirms his or her status at the hospital and specialty area. Do not hesitate to ask staff members to identify themselves. If someone you do not know enters your room, it is your right to ask who he or she is. If you have any doubts about the identity or the intentions of any visitor, call a member of the nursing staff immediately.

Coordination of Your Care

Your healthcare team coordinates your care in many ways, including discussions with your referring physicians. You may also notice staff using mobile devices since this is also an important way that your care team communicates with each other.

QUESTIONS FOR MY DOCTOR

FOR YOUR FAMILY AND FRIENDS

Guidelines for Visitors

Family, friends and other designated support persons are welcome to visit you and can be helpful to your recovery. Patient comfort, care and safety are our primary concerns.

We define family as any person who plays an important role in your life. Visitation privileges cannot be denied based on race, color, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or disability.

We ask that family and friends abide by the following guidelines. It is recommended, however, that you check at the nursing station in specific units for information about visiting in each unit. If you have any concerns, please discuss them with your nurse.

- Guests must pick up a pass at the Information

Desk in the main lobby before visiting patient floors.

- We ask that you limit visitation to two guests in a room at one time to allow for your rest and recovery. Please keep visits brief.
- Arrangements may be made for one family member to spend the night. Every effort will be made to try to accommodate this request. Please discuss with the unit nurse.

Please Remind Others:

- Everyone (including all clinical and nonclinical staff, visitors and all others) is required to wash their hands with soap and water or foam when entering and leaving a patient's room.
- People with colds, sore throats, fever, etc., or any contagious diseases should not visit patients.
- People who might have been in contact with anyone with a contagious disease (diagnosed or receiving treatment for) should check with the patient's nurse prior to visiting.
- Visitors should maintain a quiet environment and avoid unnecessary noise.
- Visitors should refrain from sitting on the hospital bed, as well as eating in the room.
- Visitors may be asked to leave the room during tests or treatments, or when the doctor or nurse needs to see the patient.
- Visitors must refrain from taking pictures, video and/or voice recordings of patients and staff.

Condition Reports

Any personal information about your diagnosis and treatment must come from your physician. Your condition, however, can be provided to anyone who asks for you by name, including the media, unless you opt out of the Hospital Directory (see page 6).

Banking

For the convenience of patients and visitors, an ATM is located in the main lobby, next to the Gift Shop.

Elevator System

The elevator system in the main hospital helps provide more efficient service to patients, visitors and hospital staff. Instead of the traditional "up or down" buttons, each passenger enters his or her floor destination into the touch screen positioned just outside the elevators. The system directs the passenger to one of the elevators for the quickest route. The Hospital Pavilion uses a traditional elevator system.

Restrooms

For health and safety reasons, visitors are not permitted to use the bathrooms in patient rooms. Public restrooms are located on the main level of the hospital and Hospital Pavilion, as well as on each patient floor, and include restrooms that are gender neutral and handicap accessible.

For your safety and protection, please use the toilet seat covers that are provided in all restrooms. Wash your hands and turn the faucet with a dry paper towel.

Patient Family Education Center

The Patient Family Education Center is located near the main entrance of the hospital, next to the Chapel on Level 5, and is open Monday through Friday, 8 am to 5 pm. The center provides you and your family members with practical information and services, including a free charging station, computers, fax machine and photocopier.

Guest Lodging

Our Information Desk offers information about hotels in the area. To learn more, call 4-7686 Monday through Friday from 7 am to 8:30 pm, and Saturday and Sunday from 10 am to 8:30 pm.

Gift Shop

Gifts, greeting cards, postage stamps, candy, flowers and toiletries are among the items for sale at the Stony Brook University Hospital Gift Shop, located in the main lobby on Level 5. The shop is open Monday through Friday, 8 am to 8:30 pm, and Saturday and Sunday, 10 am to 6 pm. The Gift Shop phone number is 4-3133.

A satellite gift shop specializing in children's apparel, toys and novelties is located on Level 5 in the Hospital Pavilion, near Stony Brook Children's Hospital. Hours of operation are Monday through Friday, noon to 8 pm.

Gifts for Patients

All visitors should check with the nurse before bringing gifts to patients.

PATIENT SAFETY

Your safe care is our primary concern.

Our Promise to You

At Stony Brook University Hospital, we promise that we will:

- Wash our hands before seeing you.
- Check your name, date of birth, identification band and chart/requisition before giving any medicine, performing a procedure, drawing blood or transporting you.
- Call you by your preferred name.
- Listen to your thoughts, questions and concerns.
- Ask you to become our partner in your healthcare.
- Ask you or a family member for a complete list of medications and nutritional supplements that you are taking.
- Thoroughly explain to you or a family member the care and medications you will receive.
- Make sure that you or your family member understands the risks and benefits of all procedures or surgeries you are going to have.
- Stop any procedure at the request of you or a family member.
- Ask for your feedback and concerns.
- Support, respect and leave you with a positive lasting impression.

SpeakUp™

Everyone at Stony Brook University Hospital has a role in making healthcare safe. As a patient, you can make your care safer by being an active, involved and informed member of your care team. The SpeakUp program, sponsored by The Joint Commission, emphasizes that patients should be involved in their own care. Research shows that patients who take part in decisions about their own care are more likely to get better faster. Ask your nurse for a copy of the SpeakUp brochure, which details specific things that you can do as a patient to help prevent errors and stay safe.

Rapid Response Team: Calling 321 Dispatches the Team

Stony Brook University Hospital created a Rapid Response Team (RRT) — a group of critical care specialists or senior residents accompanied by respiratory therapists. This team is available to provide urgent, lifesaving intervention in the event a patient shows signs of a sudden change in his or her medical condition.

The bedside nurse is specially trained to recognize signs of distress, but we realize that a patient's family member may be the first to witness symptoms. To dispatch the RRT, call 321 on a hospital or patient bedside phone, or (631) 444-1077 on a cell phone. The team will respond promptly to the patient's bedside with the goal of providing care before a potential crisis occurs. Details are posted in patient rooms. For more information, ask a member of our staff and review our Rapid Response Team brochure.

Falls Prevention

Please use your call bell for help when getting out of bed. Our staff is happy to assist you.

Pain Management

Pain relief is an important part of your healthcare, your recovery and your comfort. Controlling pain can help you get well faster. Less pain will help you regain your strength more quickly and allow you to resume normal function sooner.

Pain management is a way to recognize and treat discomfort associated with a diagnosis, disease or treatment. Our healthcare team will work closely with you to achieve a functional level of comfort while keeping you safe. When evaluating your pain control, we will have regular conversations about your ability to rest, perform daily activities and whether your comfort level is improving. Your input in developing daily goals is valued. To learn more about your rights regarding your pain, please review the patient rights packet you received when admitted to the hospital. We use a variety of techniques and medications in order to decrease the risk of opioid abuse and addiction. Please share any concerns regarding the risk of opioid abuse or addiction with your healthcare team.

Things You Can Do to Ensure Medication Safety

- Share with your healthcare provider a list of all your current medicines, vitamins, herbs and supplements.
- Know what medications you are receiving in the hospital and why you are receiving them.
- Ask your healthcare provider how a new medicine will help. Ask about possible side effects. Ask for written information about the medicine, including its brand and generic names.
- Tell your healthcare provider if you don't feel well after receiving a medicine. If you think you are having a reaction or experiencing side effects, ask for help immediately.
- Don't be afraid to tell your healthcare provider if you think you are about to get the wrong medicine.
- Remind your healthcare provider about allergies that you have or negative reactions you have had to other medicines.
- Be aware that your healthcare providers will be checking your wristband and asking your name and date of birth prior to procedures or administering medications.
- Before you leave the hospital, make sure that you understand all of the instructions for the medicines you will need to keep taking and the medicines you will no longer need to take. Ask any questions you may have about any of your medications.
- Read the label on your prescription medicine. Make sure that it has your name on it and the correct medicine name and dosage. Some medicines have similar names and can be easily confused with each other. Make sure that your medication looks the same as it normally does. If something doesn't match, ask your healthcare provider immediately.
- Take your medicine as prescribed, and do not stop taking it without first speaking with your healthcare provider.
- If you receive a prescription for antibiotics, use all the medication as prescribed until it is finished. Never use antibiotics prescribed for someone else or give someone else your medications.

Isolation Precautions

Infection Control: Hand Hygiene

We can't say it enough. Hand washing is one of the best ways to prevent the spread of infection. This is particularly important during hospitalization, when patients are at their most vulnerable and may have low immunity.

For your safety and the safety of your visitors, we request that you help spread the word to perform hand hygiene before and after: every patient contact; entering a patient's room/area; eating; and using the bathroom. This means either using antibacterial foam or washing hands thoroughly at the sink.

Here's how the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and the World Health Organization (WHO) recommend you wash your hands. Lather your hands with soap and water for as long as it takes to sing "Happy Birthday" twice. Use a paper towel when turning off the water. Then dry hands thoroughly.

Disease-Specific Precautions

In the hospital, certain infections may require isolation to keep them from spreading to other patients. If this is the case with you, do not be alarmed. It is a standard safety procedure that involves taking precautions. This may include changing your room and limiting visitors. During your hospitalization, one or more of your laboratory cultures may show that you are carrying or are infected with bacteria or an organism that is resistant to usual antibiotics. When this occurs, you will be placed on disease-specific precautions. These protective measures are required for all healthcare workers to prevent or limit the spread to other patients. Your room may be changed. You will also be placed on disease-specific precautions at each of your subsequent admissions until it is proven that you are not carrying or infected with the identified bacteria.

Your family members and visitors do not have to follow special precautions unless instructed to do so by a healthcare provider. Before entering the room, they should ask your nurse for specific instructions. They should wash their hands with soap and water or foam when entering and leaving the room, and should not go into other patient rooms and common areas in the unit. While in the room, if they need to sneeze or cough, they should do so into their elbow, not their hand. If they are using a tissue, they should discard it and wash hands. Family members and visitors should take as few personal items as possible into the room and store them away from you. They should not touch items used for your care, including medical devices, tubes or dressings.

The doctor, nurse and the infection control practitioner assigned to your area can provide you with specific and additional information regarding the isolation. For additional information or to speak with one of the practitioners, call the Healthcare Epidemiology Department at 4-7430, Monday through Friday, 8 am to 4:30 pm.

SUPPORT SERVICES

Patient Advocacy

If you have any questions or concerns that have not been answered to your satisfaction, or if you have a special need, contact a member of the Patient Advocacy staff. Patient advocates can help you understand your rights as a patient. They will address concerns you might have about your care, the hospital or any of its policies and procedures. Patient Advocacy is located in Room 540 on Level 5 (near the main lobby) and is open Monday through Friday, 8 am to 4:30 pm. You may ask your nurse to contact a patient advocate or you may call directly at 4-2880. If you wish to speak to a patient advocate during evenings or weekends, please ask your nurse for assistance. Additionally, you can mail in your concerns related to your experience to:

Stony Brook University Hospital
Department of Patient Advocacy
Stony Brook, NY 11794-7522

Your concerns will be reviewed and every effort will be made to resolve them. You will be notified of the review and any follow-up that is done. If your concerns have not been addressed to your satisfaction, or if you prefer, you may contact The Joint Commission at (800) 994-6610 or via email at complaint@jointcommission.org. You also may report concerns to the New York State Department of Health, (800) 804-5447, and Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services as outlined in the booklet, "Your Rights as a Hospital Patient in New York State."

Care Management

In order to help ensure that your stay at Stony Brook goes smoothly, shortly after you are admitted an RN case manager or a social worker will meet with you and possibly with your family to coordinate your care and plan for your safe discharge. A stay in the hospital is much shorter than in the past. Improved treatments, the use of home care and rehabilitation services, and stricter insurance rules have all played a part in reducing the time you stay in the hospital. Although discharge times will vary, our goal is to have patients discharged by 11 am. We will work with you and/or your family to make sure that when you leave, your after-hospital care needs are addressed.

Depending on your needs, we can help to:

- Give your insurance company the information needed to access your covered benefits
- Facilitate admission to rehabilitation centers, adult homes, assisted living centers, skilled nursing facilities, psychiatric centers and group homes
- Arrange for home care, medical equipment, dialysis and home IV therapy
- Provide emotional support to help you deal with an illness, loss or a crisis while in the hospital
- Refer you to community agencies and services
- Provide referrals to community agencies for benefits and entitlements
- Provide assistance with advance directives
- Arrange hospice and palliative care services
- Provide information and support if you are involved in an abuse or maltreatment situation
- Provide you with information regarding treatment if you have substance abuse problems

Case managers and social workers are available seven days a week. To speak with someone from the Care Management Department, call 4-2552, Monday through Friday, 8 am to 5 pm, and Saturday, 8 am to 4 pm. On Sunday and after hours, please leave a voicemail message, and a staff member will return your call the following business day. If you need to speak to a case manager or social worker urgently, please ask your nurse to assist you.

HIV Testing Services

Stony Brook provides voluntary HIV testing, based on patient request and/or medical recommendation.

In addition, we follow the New York State mandate to offer HIV testing to all patients age 13 and older who seek care through the Emergency Department, inpatient hospital units and outpatient primary care areas.

New York State law requires patients be provided with basic information about HIV/AIDS prior to testing. Patients may refuse the test. The Emergency Department and some outpatient primary care areas offer rapid HIV testing, where results are obtained in less than 60 minutes. All tests are confidential and performed by Stony Brook in-house labs.

All patients testing positive for HIV are provided an appointment for medical services within our adult, maternity or pediatric HIV departments. For patients who want to seek care at another location, the initial appointment can be arranged, as well as linkage to care services. Any patient seeking further information or interested in an HIV test can call 4-3592 or visit stonybrookmedicine.edu/hiv.

If you are interested in reducing your risk of getting HIV, Stony Brook offers HIV Pre-Exposure Prophylaxis (PrEP), a pill that can help keep you from getting HIV. For more information, call (631) 559-6138 or visit stonybrookmedicine.edu/PrEP.

The Blood Bank

Stony Brook has a fully equipped Blood Bank. Blood is a free gift from a community of donors; however, there are charges to the patient for processing and testing.

Our Blood Bank collects many different types of blood donations. An autologous (self) donation is when a patient pre-deposits his or her own blood for scheduled surgery. Directed donations, where friends and family donate blood for a specific patient, can also be arranged. Voluntary blood donations are always welcome and help the Blood Bank to maintain an adequate blood supply. Please note that screening tests are performed on donated blood to ensure blood safety. It may take up to a week from the day of donation before it can be used for transfusion. For more information about transfusion and for anyone wishing to donate the precious, lifesaving gift of blood, please call the Blood Bank at 4-2634 or 4-DONATE (4-3662).

Medical Records

While you are a patient at Stony Brook, you can have access to information contained in your medical records from a physician or a patient advocate. If you are transferred to another facility, a copy of your medical record accompanies you. All other requests for release of information need to include a signed authorization from the patient or his or her legal guardian and are handled by the Health Information Management Department.

Patient Portal

Stony Brook has a patient portal, "MyHealtheLife," which is a secure, online tool for patients to view their health information, message doctors and request appointments. It also contains medical information and patient education tools. Parents can access their child's medical records only if their child is under age 12. Parents of children ages 12 and over can create a parent proxy portal that allows them limited access to their child's medical record. This is to protect the privacy of medical information of children over the age of 12 — especially important when adolescents seek care independent of their parents. Please ask any member of your healthcare team for more information and to create an account.

Ethics Consultation Service

Ethics consultation is a service offered to patients, their families and those who play a key role in decisions about patient care. Stony Brook University Hospital is committed to shared decision-making and honoring patients' wishes concerning medical treatment. Ethics consultants are available 24 hours a day to offer supportive counsel to help clarify and resolve ethical problems that might arise. Dial "0" for the hospital switchboard to request a consultant.

Advance Directives

What is an advance directive?

Advance directives are written instructions about healthcare treatment made by adult patients before they lose their decision-making capacity. In New York State, the best way to protect your treatment wishes and concerns is to appoint someone you trust to decide about treatment if you become unable to decide for yourself. This person can be a family member, close friend or same-sex partner. By filling out a form called a healthcare proxy, this person becomes your "healthcare agent." Before appointing a healthcare agent, make sure the person is willing to act as your agent. Discuss with your agent what types of treatments you would or would not want if you were in the hospital and had a life-threatening illness or injury. Make sure your healthcare agent knows your wishes. Some patients also express specific instructions and choices about medical treatments in writing. A written statement can be included in a healthcare proxy, or it can be in a separate document such as a living will.

If you are interested in completing a healthcare proxy or would like to have a discussion about healthcare proxies, please request to see a social worker or case manager.

Spiritual Care Services/ Chaplaincy Services/Chapel

The Chaplaincy Department recognizes the importance of an individual's emotional and spiritual needs, as well as their impact on well-being. Often in times of uncertainty, worry, crisis, illness or grief, many turn to their faith and/or belief systems as a method of coping and strength. Chaplains are clinically trained to care for the human spirit and engage those they encounter by assessing their spiritual and emotional needs, serving as advocates, listeners and counselors, among other roles. Chaplains are available to assist patients and their families to access their own inner sources of strength, find meaning and assist with ethical decision-making. They also provide sacramental and sacred services upon request. Stony Brook University Hospital Spiritual Care providers are a diverse group: Catholic, Jewish, Islamic and Protestant chaplains who are available and able to assist in connecting individuals with other faiths and traditions.

To reach a chaplain, call the hospital operator or ask a member of your healthcare team to page the chaplain. The team can also arrange a visit for you. The Interfaith Chapel is located on Level 5 near the main entrance, and all are welcome. A schedule of services can also be obtained from the hospital operator or the announcement board directly outside the Chapel.

Palliative Care Information Act

New York State requires that healthcare practitioners offer information and counseling to patients and their families with serious illness. This includes information about prognosis, the range of options appropriate to the treatment, the risks and benefits associated with those options, and comprehensive pain and symptom management related to a serious illness.

The Palliative Care Service

The Palliative Care team is a supportive service that can help you and your family by assisting with pain management and other difficult symptoms and challenging decision-making related to serious illness, even when first diagnosed. The palliative care team works closely with your primary care team to address the specific palliative needs that can arise when being treated for a serious illness. A team of specialists from medicine, social work, nursing and chaplaincy services provide compassionate care and guidance for physical, emotional and spiritual needs. The Palliative Care team is available for inpatient consultation for patients facing serious illness. Patients and families can contact the Palliative Care team through any member of the primary treatment team.

Checkout Time

Your doctor will let you know when you are ready for discharge, but your medical team will be planning your discharge with you from the first day you are admitted. Discuss with the team what your possible date of discharge is. You may know the evening before or the morning of discharge. Please make arrangements with a family member or friend to help you when it is time to go home. Depending on your needs, the discharge time may vary. Our goal for you is to be discharged by 11 am. If you need a ride home, please notify your nurse, social worker or care manager.

Discharge Procedure

Your healthcare team will visit you to review your discharge plan and make any changes to your medications. Your discharge nurse will go over all discharge information with you. We recommend that you have someone with you to also listen to those instructions. If you are wearing any devices during your stay, they will need to be removed before you leave. Please do not pack any hospital supplies, such as towels or linens. If you are in doubt about items that you can take home, please ask your nurse. You will need to be escorted by a staff member to the main entrance of the hospital.

Discharge Instructions

After the discharge orders are written by your doctor, the discharge nurse will explain the aftercare needed and any instructions to follow, as well as review your medicines, including any signs and symptoms to look out for at home. The nurse will also verify that your prescriptions for medicines were sent to the correct pharmacy. If you have questions about your diet, activities or other matters, please ask.

If you are waiting for transportation home, we may ask you to wait in the visitor lounge on your unit until your ride arrives.

We want to make the transition from hospital to home a safe one for you. Please do not leave unless you have received your copies of the information. MyHealthLife, our secure patient portal, has all the information that was reviewed with you online. If you did not sign up for the portal, talk to your discharge nurse who can sign you up before you leave.

Medications

New York State has mandated that all prescriptions be sent to pharmacies electronically. We will no longer give you a paper prescription for medications. Please be sure that your healthcare team has the correct information about your pharmacy.

Personal Belongings

On the day you know that you are going home, please collect all of your belongings and double-check closets and drawers. Were any of your valuables (wallet, cash, jewelry, etc.) stored in a hospital safe? If so, please visit the Cashier's Office or call 4-7583 before you leave to make arrangements to retrieve your belongings.

Leaving the Hospital

When you are ready to leave, a member of the hospital staff will escort you to the front entrance and help you into your car.

FINANCIAL CARE

Payment for Your Care

We realize that healthcare bills can be confusing. Patients should familiarize themselves with the terms and conditions of their insurance coverage. Those patients without insurance coverage are responsible for paying the full cost of their care. If you need help paying your bill, the hospital's Financial Assistance Program can help patients who are uninsured and those with limited insurance. Call the Customer Service/Patient Accounts

Department for details at (631) 444-4151. A Medicaid representative is available to assist with the Medicaid application Monday through Friday, 8 am to 4 pm, and can be reached by calling (631) 444-7587.

When you become a non-emergency hospital patient at Stony Brook University Hospital, you are entitled to receive information about how you will be charged for the services you receive. This is particularly important if you receive care that is not in your health plan's network, or if you are not covered by a health plan.

Inpatient Hospitalization: Stony Brook is a participating provider in many health plan networks. However, some health plans use smaller networks for certain services they offer, so it is important to check whether we participate in your specific plan. <https://www.stonybrookmedicine.edu/patientcare/oon/plans>

Physician Services While You're in the Hospital:

The physician services you receive while a patient in our hospital are not included in the hospital charges. Physicians who provide services at Stony Brook may be independent voluntary physicians. If your physician does not participate in your specific plan, you may want to choose a different physician who does. <https://www.stonybrookmedicine.edu/find-a-doctor>; <https://www.stonybrookmedicine.edu/patientcare/oon/md-charges>

Specialty or Other Services While You Are Hospitalized:

Stony Brook has contracts with a number of physician groups such as anesthesiologists, radiologists and pathologists so that they can provide services at our hospital. You should contact these groups directly to find out which health plans they accept. <https://www.stonybrookmedicine.edu/patientcare/oon/contract-charges>

Understanding Your Hospital Charges: We created a sample list of charges for our most common hospital procedures. Please keep in mind that these charges are just examples. There are different factors that affect what a patient actually pays depending on specific contracts that a health plan, insurer or other third-party payer (like Medicare) may have with us. Insured, in-network patients are usually only responsible for copayments, coinsurance and/or deductibles. <https://www.stonybrookmedicine.edu/patientcare/oon/charges>

If You Don't Have Health Insurance:

Contact our Financial Assistance Office to see if you may be able to get help paying for your hospital bills at (631) 444-4331. <https://www.stonybrookmedicine.edu/patientcare/oon/financial-assistance>

Financial Assistance Program

Stony Brook University Hospital recognizes that there are times when patients in need of care will have difficulty paying for services provided. The hospital's financial assistance program provides discounts to qualifying individuals, based on income.

Who qualifies for a discount?

A financial aid application is offered to patients who have limited income, have no health insurance, are underinsured or would like to be screened for discount eligibility. You cannot be denied medically necessary care because you need financial assistance. You may apply for a discount regardless of immigration status.

Everyone in New York State who needs emergency services and non-emergency, medically necessary services at Stony Brook University Hospital can receive care and may be eligible for assistance based on income limits that have been established by federal guidelines.

Can someone explain the discount? Can someone help me apply?

Yes. Free confidential help is available. Call our Financial Aid Unit at (631) 444-4331. If you do not speak English, someone will help you in your own language. The financial counselor can tell you if you qualify for free or low-cost insurance, such as Medicaid, Family Health Plus and Child Health Plus. If the counselor finds that you don't qualify for low-cost insurance, he or she will help you apply for a discount. The counselor will help you fill out the forms and tell you what documents you need to bring.

How do I apply for a discount?

A financial assistance application is available online at stonybrookmedicine.edu/billinginformation. You may also pick up an application from the cashier in the Emergency Department, the main cashier on Level 5 of the hospital or the Patient Accounts Office at 31 Research Way in East Setauket.

A financial assistance application will be sent to you upon your request if you call our Financial Aid Unit at (631) 444-4331. You will need to supply copies of all requested documentation. If you cannot provide these, you may still be eligible to apply for financial assistance.

Additional Healthcare Insurance Options

For those who are under age 65 and who do not have a disability, you may be eligible for coverage through NY State of Health, the state's official health plan marketplace. For information, call (855) 355-5777 or visit nystateofhealth.ny.gov.

In order to apply for coverage, you may need to have proof of the following:

NOTES

Stony Brook is all about ideas.

At Stony Brook Medicine, we work every day to transform the best ideas in medicine into the best in patient care.

As part of a university, Stony Brook is the place where ideas are nurtured, challenged and improved — and shared with others. Our physicians, nurses and entire healthcare team know that a good idea can result in exceptional care and a real difference in our patients' lives. So we strive to deliver the best ideas in medicine to our patients and their families. Whether that's in a new treatment protocol, the convenience of an outpatient clinic or simply a more user-friendly way to access our medical care. Ideas drive us, they thrive here and we are committed to bringing more of them to our patients than anyone else.
